"When good people come together with courage and determination, lives can be changed."

BEAR GRYLLS

"International Justice Mission is doing inspirational work to fight slavery and protect children around the world, tackling one of the most pressing issues of our day. I'm proud to stand with IJM as the largest anti-slavery organisation in the world. I've learned that when good people come together with courage and determination, lives can be changed."

Join me in supporting IJM and let's help end slavery in our lifetime."

Bear Grylls is standing with us – and inviting you to do the same.

Ending slavery in our lifetime is possible. Every gift truly makes a difference to help bring children, women and men to safety from slavery and violence.

When we come together, we bring freedom that lasts.

Join the movement now because every action today shapes the world we live in tomorrow.

I want to bring freedom that lasts >>

Until all are free,

Amanda Nelson
