"And so we know and rely on the love God has for us. God is love. Whoever lives in love lives in God, and God in them."

– 1 John 4:16 (NIV)

Hi John,

Your prayers are powerful. Today, we share an encouraging update on our recent parliamentary events.

Plus, with your prayers and support, we've seen justice in cases of violence in South Asia and Africa. Thank you.

Europe

Praise God for two incredibly impactful meetings in UK Parliament last week, calling on the Government to take a leading role globally in preventing livestreamed child sexual abuse. Praise God for parliamentary advocates Jess Phillips MP and Lord Nash for their powerful partnership, for survivors Mark from the Philippines and Jamie* from the UK who courageously shared their experiences, and for significa media coverage. Please pray that those in the room push for greater action to protect children online, until are free.

South Asia

Praise God for the significant conviction of a man who exploited three workers at his father's cattle farm. The labourers had been forced to work from 5am to midnight and endured isolation and torture. Authorities freed the survivors in 2018 and then diligently pursued the case in court. Earlier this month, the suspect was sentenced to seven years in prison, a significant sentence for this kind of case in South Asia. Pray this news will be a comfort for the survivors in their ongoing recovery.

Africa

Praise God for Peter, a husband and father in Kenya who has finally been declared not guilty of a wrongful murder accusation after six years. We thank God for sustaining Peter and his family through years of uncertainty and for a judge who recognised serious flaws in the case and prevented a grave injustice. Praise God that Peter now walks free, and pray for healing, restoration and renewed hope as his family rebuilds their lives together.

Asia Pacific

Praise God for survivor leaders in Cambodia who shared their stories during a recent event markin the National Day Against Human Trafficking. Pray that God will continue to strengthen these survivor leaders, and that their testimonies help raise awareness about the risks of unsafe migration so that many others will be protected from exploitation.

Latin America

Praise God for a significant step towards justice for women and girls across Peru as prosecutors fro around the country united to establish consistent standards for investigating violence and protecting survivors. Through this effort, a woman seeking help can receive a more reliable response no matter wher she lives. Pray that these prosecutors apply the agreements faithfully and that women and girls encounter justice system that listens, protects and responds with wisdom and care.
